SEATTLE, Wash. – Bellydance Intersections is a holistic perspective on dance and movement – a seamless tapestry of belly dance, contemporary, folkloric, ballet, and more, featuring international oriental dance artist Gyongyi Stuber of Hungary with a rare intersection of talent, including The Allegro Dance Company (Portland, Oregon), Brittany Mattox & Coalescence Dance Company, Akahsia, Suzanna, and Ava. In a world focused on difference and segmentation, Bellydance Intersections highlights crossover, collaboration, and unification. Circles, waves, spirals, vibrations, and punctuated movements transcend multiple styles, yielding fresh new inspirations.

"In my opinion, there aren't 'new moves' to belly dance or any kind of a dance, only new and creative ways to use the basics." – Gyongyi Stuber, International Dance Artist of Hungary

This high quality production takes place on July 6th in the exquisite Chapel Performance Space in Seattle, and includes a brief post-show Q&A with audience and artists. There is also a kickoff house concert with live music by House of Tarab on July 3rd; workshops with the amazing Gyöngyi on July 4th, 5th, 7th, and 10th, and more!
